"EVERY ACHIEVEMENT IS BUT A CAMPING PLACE FOR THE NIGHT"

just so, is the effort that you make measured from day to day.

the best you have still remains dormant, and it is only through training and a willingness "to do"—that the final reward is awarded.

Clean living, a clean mind, clothed in clean apparel are all equally essential.

The fellow that DOESN'T MIND WORK—sometimes wins—but the man who will WORK HIS MIND in harmony with work—watch his step.

We work with you. We invite your personal inspection of the plant—and in doing so, ask that should you not be pleased tell us, for close attention is given the "little things" that make a laundry service that satisfies.

Editor's Foreword

Each year the Y. M. C. A. of the University publishes the Freshman HANDBOOK for the guidance and instruction of new men to the University. Its aim is to present a brief summary of the major activities and organizations on the campus, to instruct the freshmen on the procedure and conduct of a University student, and to acquaint them with the campus buildings and life on the campus. It is to the advantage of each new man to study this book carefully and keep it with him constantly throughout the whole of his freshman year. Many upper-classmen refer to it as a guide. On careful study of the HANDBOOK a new man should be able to come to Carolina and in a short time enter actively into the interesting and educational life of the University. Should there arise any difficulty which this HANDBOOK does not explain, the officials of the Y. M. C. A. are ready to serve you and aid you in every possible manner.

Introduction to the University

You are now for the first time leaving behind the old and entering a new life. You are coming to Chapel Hill and the University to be heirs to the wealth of all the ages, to dip for a few years into the wisdom and knowledge which the present has garnered from the past. When you enter the portals of the University you become members of the universal fellowship of those whose quest is the greater life, a fellowship of those who have gone before you seeking the path which will lead them to a greater Understanding.

BINGHAM HALL
Commerce

You have chosen a University which has behind it one hundred and forty years of tradition. It has been a tradition born and nourished of men whose guidance has been the spirit, and they have looked about them seeking to add from their own store to the imperishable wealth of Goodness, Truth and Beauty. Thus, through the years they have built this great treasury of Knowledge which you, as the next generation of the University, have inherited. It lies here waiting for you to reach out and make it a part of you. It offers you a new life, richer and full of greater meaning. Whatever in the past that has been less than your best must be left behind; it has no part in your new world. Yours is a great responsibility.

Such is your inheritance. In your hands, now, rests the responsibility of carrying on, of looking about your lives and adding to this treasury. What the inheritance of future generations shall be rests with you. The University has become proud of its traditions; cherish and preserve them for those who are yet to come.

Tips To New Men

CAROLINA

The oldest state university in the country extends to each new man a sincere welcome. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has for years been acclaimed for the freedom it allows in both thought and action, for the traditions and respect it has built up through 150 years of progress, for the general spirit of friendliness and comradeship which pervades the community, and for the liberal and non-pedantic style of teaching. The University relies upon the men to uphold its standards and respect the students having their own government and penal code. Every man is expected to conduct himself as a gentleman and to cooperate with the others in protecting the University traditions.

Necessities

Each dormitory and most of the rooming houses equip rooms with a bed, mattress, desk for each occupant, chiffonier, and lights. Bed clothing, lamps, pennants, pictures, and other decorations are individually furnished. Your traveling bag should contain enough bed linen, towels, and clothes for several days as your trunk may be delayed. In your luggage it is advisable to include such equipment as football, baseball glove, gym togs, a Webster dictionary (required in Freshman English courses), and books you may want (the library here contains over 250,000 volumes and subscribes to most of the important dailies in the United States).

Memorial Hall

Arriving

Freshman week begins at two o'clock in the afternoon of September 18. It will be worth your while to arrive a day or two earlier so as to become acquainted with the campus. Chapel Hill may be reached most conveniently by motor or bus. Road maps of North Carolina will show the paved roads leading into Chapel Hill. There is no passenger station within Chapel Hill, and should you come by train, make Durham your immediate destination, taking the bus from there to the Hill. Be sure to have your luggage checked by a reliable firm and arrange for its immediate delivery. Take the name and address of the man who checks it.

Arrival

Go immediately to the Buildings Department at the foot of the large smokestack and get the key to your dormitory room. Be prepared to pay a twenty-five cent deposit on the key. If you don't have a room reserved, go to South Building where one will be assigned to you. Settle your baggage in your room, become acquainted with your roommate, and begin mixing with the other fellows; they will be glad of your friendship. It is advisable to have your physical examination in Bynum gym as soon as possible. Keep your orientation card with you and follow each step outlined. Also keep this Handbook convenient for constant reference to map and instruction.

Eating Establishments

For your own satisfaction do not sign up immediately with any eating place, but try several before deciding upon a permanent one. Conveniently located is the University profit-sharing dining room, Swain hall. In town there are several cafes, cafeterias, and boarding houses all of which serve three meals a day from fifteen to twenty-five dollars a month. Student managers will make arrangements for you with these places.

EVERETT DORMITORY

Freshman Week

Freshman orientation week begins with a meeting of the entire freshman class in Memorial hall at 2:00 o'clock Monday, September 18, 1933. This is the beginning of a week of events prepared to aid the new men in adjusting themselves to the procedure of the University. The program includes mental and physical measurements, special talks, tours, and social gathering, with registration for courses on Wednesday. All freshmen are required to attend every meeting on their program and meet all appointments made for them.

GENERAL TIPS AND INFORMATION

Athletics are an important part of every college man's life. Every man should try out for the freshman team in at least one sport. It doesn't matter if you don't make the first team. Stick by your favorite sport; you may make the first team your next year. If you find you won't have time for regular athletics join with your intramural teams. Fraternities are by no means necessary to your comfort or success in college. If you feel that you can afford an expensive luxury, choose your fraternity carefully and rationally. Visit each house to which you receive an invitation, but only when invited. Make a good appearance, as the fraternity men will be on their best behavior also. By no means pledge yourself before pledge day and then consider every factor before making your decision which will affect your whole college career. Churches in Chapel Hill are happy to welcome you. Choose the church of your denomination or choice of ministers and attend regularly every Sunday. Sermons always contain inspiring advice to a young man. Expenses may be kept down as low as $450, but only by the dint of careful budgeting. If you find it necessary to have additional financial help, the Y. M. C. A. maintains a self-help bureau which will furnish you with part-time occupation. Nearly one-half of the Carolina students are wholly or partly self-supporting. Hazing at Chapel Hill is practically unknown. Be respectful to upperclassmen and by no means attempt to be fresh. Should any fellows attempt to have harmless fun with you, such as making speeches or singing, take it like the good sport every Carolina man is, and you will soon be accepted as an all around fellow. Writing home interesting facts often will not only please your parents who are expecting a lot from you, but will serve as a kind of journal of your life here for future reference. Mail comes into the Hill three times a day and is delivered through the town twice daily. Attendance on class is required. No reason but illness should keep you from your classes. The professors will notice absences unfavorably. Keep up with your studies; it will save you time and worry in the long run. Illness must be treated by the University physician to affect an excused absence. Go to the Infirmary when ill and let the physician treat you. Books can be bought at the Book Exchange for your class work. The library is equipped to furnish your outside needs. Become acquainted with this building and use it frequently; a whole education can be procured in the library alone. Quizzes are given according to professors' whims. This is another reason for regular class attendance. Never cut a quiz as it will be a black mark on your grade. Examinations at the end of each quarter must be taken and usually count at least one-third the whole course credit. Keeping up with your studies will enable you to make high grades on the finals. Professors are all human beings and are glad to have serious or pleasant, sincere talks with their men. Should you strike any difficulty in any of your work, consult your professor; he is the one teaching you. Your friendship with professors will often educate you more than classroom work. Don't attempt to 'bootlick'; always be sincere in your attempts at friendship. Y. M. C. A. work is an important part of the University's activities. Become a member and attend the regular meetings. This organization is interested in each individual and is always ready to serve you when you need help or advice. Remember that contacts such as the Y. M. C. A. brings are really the most important part of University life. Participation in activities is desired of all men, old and new.

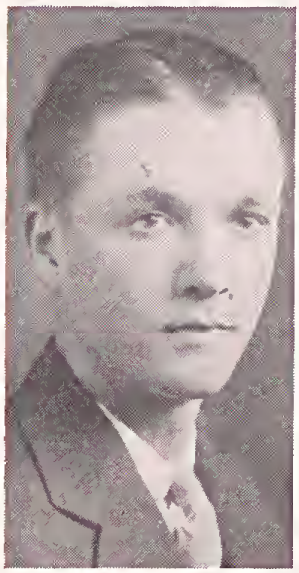
Student Government

Student government at Carolina has no written constitution. It is interpreted by the Student Council to the best of their ability to meet the demands and interests of the new student body. The two systems upon which student government is based and by which the Student Council shapes its actions are the Honor System and the Campus Code.



HARPER BARNES
President of the Student Body

There is no espionage or monitorship on the Carolina campus, the honor system replacing these systems by confidence in student honor. The theory is that, since there is no police system or espionage, students will act spontaneously and fairly upon any breaches of honor and will submit any such offenses before their representative tribunal —the Student Council.

The Honor System must not be confused or misinterpreted, however, as to deal with breaches of conduct, for it is concerned with breaches of honor alone—with offenses of lying, cheating, and stealing. To mistake the meaning of the Honor System is to destroy it.

Nowhere does individual responsibility play so important a part as in instances where honor is involved on the campus; it is an obvious fact that there will always be a certain percentage of students who will fail to realize their responsibility and who abuse the privilege granted to them. But those who are unable to live up to the standards and level demanded by the Honor System will eventually fall from their positions of respect on the campus or in life, for the Honor System is the guiding principle in both the life at the University and after graduation.

Responsibility is the involved element in the Campus Code, which replaces any fixed rules or laws of conduct by the requirement that as Carolina students we conduct ourselves as gentlemen. The student must interpret the code himself, for there is no honor attached but rather a personal obligation.

So here, as in the Honor System, individual responsibility is an integral factor; it is incumbent upon the student to conduct himself at all times in the manner of a gentleman, and it is furthermore his duty, insofar as it is appropriate, to note that his fellow-students do likewise.

The main purpose of the Student Council at Carolina is to investigate and try all reported breaches of the Campus Code and the Honor System, and to take any such action as these principles require to remedy and prevent such violations. Its decrees are designed to be corrective rather than retributory; its hearings are investigations rather than prosecutions.

The council is composed of ten members as follows: one elected from each of the three upper classes, one each from the professional schools—Law, Medicine, and Pharmacy—one representative from the preceding council, one from the school of engineering, and the president and vice-president of the student body.

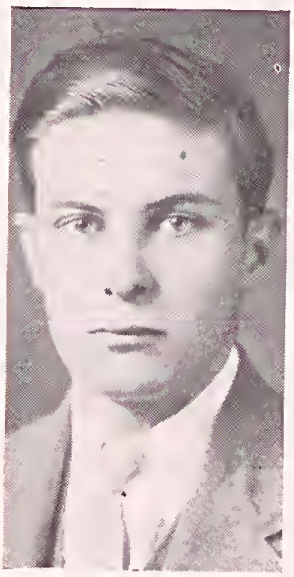
President's Message to the New Men

The University of North Carolina Young Men's Christian Association offers to the class of 1937 a cordial welcome, and desires to help you live the four most profitable and happy years of your life.

The Y. M. C. A., being one of the major activities at Carolina, offers you a unique opportunity for character and spiritual development through your own activity. It stands for the principles on which Christian religion has been built. It endeavors to lead students of this University and the people of this community to faith in God through Jesus Christ and His way of life. It endeavors to lead them into membership and service in the Christian religion and to promote their growth in such faith and character; so that in united effort the will of God will be made effective in human society through practical service and an ethical and altruistic outlook.



JOHN ACEE
President of Y.M.C.A.

But the interests of the Y. M. C. A. are not solely religious. It is interested in vital problems and attempting to solve them. It furnishes personal and welfare service to all, including personal guidance and self-help assistance. It is a voluntary, student organization; operated by students for students, and we invite you to actively participate in its work and join in its fellowship.

To both old and new men the Y. M. C. A. hopes that the coming year will show a growth in you spiritually, physically, and morally, as well as socially and mentally. Whether you have the time or the inclination to work with us, we at least hope that you will feel free to call on us at all times for any assistance that we may render.

Throughout the coming year may we all strive to give our best to the University, both in class work and in outside activity so as to advance not only ourselves, but the entire student body of Carolina.

Sincerely,
JOHN M. ACEE,
Pres. Y.M.C.A.

Importance and Purpose

Since being founded in 1844 by Sir George Williams of London to fulfill the need for some organization to promote daily prayer and spiritual uplift, the Young Men's Christian Association has become the largest student organization in the world. There are in America today over 2,085 Y. M. C. A.'s with a total membership of over 925,000. This includes the 700 schools in the United States which have Y. M. C. A.'s on their campuses with their 79,000 student members.

This organization that today encircles the globe and daily brings men and boys of fifty-three countries into a closer fellowship with Christ was established on the Carolina campus in 1860, being preceded in college organization only by Michigan and Virginia.

The general purpose of the Y. M. C. A. is:

(1) "To lead young men to faith in God through Jesus Christ."
(2) "To lead them into membership and service in the Christian Church."
(3) "To promote their growth in Christian faith and character, especially through the study of the Bible and daily prayer."
(4) "To influence them to develop themselves in united effort with all Christians in making the will of God effective in society and in extending the Kingdom of God throughout the world."

The primary purpose of the University Y. M. C. A. is a life of service at the University which will extend to the entire student body and to the community in such a way as to cause all with whom it comes in contact to seek ideals of self denial and provide true Christian leadership. The Carolina "Y" also endeavors to provide means whereby students may enrich their religious life.

Organization

The Carolina Y. M. C. A. building erected in 1904 with funds raised by students and faculty occupies a site in the heart of the campus and provides office headquarters for the Y. M. C. A., including a self-help bureau. The "Y" building also provides room for the University Book Exchange, the Bull's Head Book Shop, and conference rooms for the cabinets and other organizations on the campus as well as a lounging room and a recreation room. It is at the disposal of students at all hours. Use it freely.

Membership

At the last legislative session of the National Council of Y. M. C. A.'s, held in Chicago in June 1933, the basis of membership was made broader than ever before. Under this new ruling any one is eligible to membership in the Y. M. C. A. who is a member of a christian church, or whether a church member or not, may become a Y member by subscribing to the statement of purpose of the Y. It was also ruled that women as well as men shall be eligible to membership in the Y on the above basis. This means that at Carolina women students as well as men are eligible to membership in the Y. M. C. A. At the University the contribution of two dollars to the Y. M. C. A. brings a full-fledged membership which is recognized by all city Y. M. C. A.'s throughout the country. Through participation in Y activities on the campus, by attending at least six cabinet meetings during the school year, a membership in the local Y only is obtained.

The Cabinets

The direct policy of leadership of the student Y. M. C. A. belongs to its officers who are elected by the membership of the various cabinets. The class-cabinet system is used at Carolina in order to permit an unlimited number of students to participate in the program and work of the association.

The policies of the Y. M. C. A. are led and controlled by the student officers of the association which are picked from the junior and senior members of the Junior-Senior Cabinet.

Freshman Friendship Council

The Freshman Friendship Council, acting as a sub-cabinet to the Junior-Senior Cabinet is composed of all freshmen who have participated in a HI-Y Club or a prep school Y. M. C. A., and others may be elected because of their keen interest in the association. In fact any member of the incoming freshman class may become a member of the council. This council operates to bring before the freshman class the full program of the "Y." There is also a Sophomore Cabinet composed of the second year men who have been faithful members of the Freshman Friendship Council and others who wish to join.

The Program

With an organization with such a varied program as the Y. M. C. A. it is not likely that the entire program will appeal to any one student. However, the University "Y" is an organization of, for, and, for the most part, controlled by the students. Its program is adopted in such a way as to best meet the needs of the campus; thus of necessity it must be broad with sufficient variety to interest various types of students.

The work of the major divisions of the program is divided into committees and small groups devoted to specific tasks. This sub-division of the work enables every student to participate in the field of "Y" work with which he is most interested. The student should make known the choice of field either to the officers or to the committee chairmen.

Divisions of Work

Following are a few of the divisions of the program activity open to the "Y" worker as is his choice:

Religious and Devotional

University sermons, vespers, morning watch groups, devotionals in cabinets, special chapel exercises, services on special occasions such as Thanksgiving, Easter, and High School Week, organization and conduction of Bible study groups in dormitories and fraternities.

Campus and Community Service

The self-help bureau, work with the freshmen, infirmary visitation, work with the boys' groups in the community, conduction of socials and entertainments for the campus, work with the cabinets and committees thereof, personal work, cooperation with local churches, faculty and related organizations.

Educational

Cooperation in bringing speakers to the campus in all fields of thought, sending delegates to conferences and institutions, conducting a library and reading room especially for cabinet members, and securing publicity for meetings and speakers.

Extension

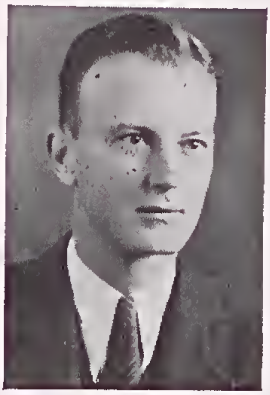
Conduction of deputation work to the high schools, churches, and towns in the state, undertaking of special foreign projects, co-operation with the World Student Christian Federation and regional and national branches of the Y. M. C. A.

The Employed Staff

The Carolina Y. M. C. A. employs a full time General Secretary, Harry F. Comer; and a self-help secretary, Edwin S. Lanier, who is now devoting part of his time to the operation of the self-help placement bureau.

HARRY F. COMER
General Secretary of "Y"

Mr. Comer has been connected with the work of General Secretary for over twelve years and is well prepared to carry on the work advising among the freshmen workers, and others of the association. His long experience enables him to keep up the continuity of the association work in the most genial manner possible. Officers and cabinet members find guidance in his counsel in various problems that come before them. The general secretary serves as a contact man with the University, the community, and the general Y. M. C. A. movement. He is interested in discovering and developing men with the best interests of the campus at heart and does much to train leaders for the "Y" work. As a part of the Y. M. C. A. program an information desk is maintained in the office of the general secretary where the freshmen and visitors to the Hill may go to make inquiries. Mr. Comer works with the "Y" workers in a spirit that gives them a joy in working with him. He is more than a coach; he plays the game along with the students who work under him.



EDW'N S. LANIER
Self-Help Secretary of "Y"

The employment of a self-help secretary provides an effective agency for placing as many students as possible in profitable employment. Many students have been able to stay in school as a result of jobs obtained through contacts made by the self-help secretary. He is interested also in the moral and spiritual wellbeing of the students and is always ready and willing to hear your problems and help you solve them. All students should feel free to seek advice of the "Y" secretaries in any problem, personal or otherwise.

Under the supervision of the General Secretary, an Office Secretary, on duty throughout the school-year, handles all stenographic work for the General Secretary, the Self-Help Secretary, and the President of the Y. M. C. A.; keeps a record of the proceedings of the various student Cabinet meetings; operates the "Lost and Found Bureau"; keeps the master copy of the Student Directory; provides for the public a list of rooms, apartments, and houses in Chapel Hill for rent; notifies students of their long-distance telephone calls; and maintains a general information service.

The Board of Directors is a group of local residents elected by the Active Membership of the Y. M. C. A. for a term of two years. This group meets at least four times a year and stands as an advisory body to student officers, committeemen, and employed staff, assumes final authority and responsibility for the financial welfare and needs of the Association, and bears the responsibility for the permanent conduct of the Association program.

Finance Report

The University Y. M. C. A. operates on an annual budget of approximately $9,000. Fifty-four percent of this amount is raised by cash appropriation of the University administration. The remainder is raised through the cabinets, the Board of Directors, and through voluntary contributions from students, faculty, alumni, and friends of the Association.

Upon registering in the University in the fall every student is given an opportunity to contribute toward the welfare and religious work of the "Y" on the campus. Any contribution, of course, is entirely optional, but it is hoped that even the student who may not feel a personal need of the services of the "Y" will contribute in consideration of the services rendered to the many who do need it, and for the program promoted on the campus by the "Y." Your pledge made during registration is collected by the University treasurer along with other fees. Student contributions range from two to ten dollars. Everyone who contributes as much as two dollars will be given a membership card, which is valuable for identification and for use in traveling through cities, as it entitles one to visitor's privileges in any city Y. Chapel Hill Churches

Freshman Night

Each church of Chapel Hill observes freshman night on Friday evening of the first week of the school year. At that time there are informal, "get-acquainted" gatherings in honor of the men who have just arrived. It is a splendid plan to make arrangements to attend these socials, for they provide an excellent medium for sincere contacts and early church relationships at the University.

METHODIST CHURCH

The Methodists of North Carolina have erected here at Chapel Hill a beautiful, well-equipped church for the benefit of the Methodist students attending the University. We would like you to make it your "church-home away-from-home."

The Wesley Student Association, of which John Entwistle is president, is responsible for all the young people's activities of the church. He and the officers of the association cordially welcome you and will do all they can to make you feel at home here.

The association offers each term several Bible courses on Sunday mornings at 9:45 o'clock. At 6:45 Sunday evenings a most interesting student hour is in order, the programs for which varies. There are also frequent week-day activities such as weinie roasts and picnics, and "at-homes" at the parsonage each Sunday evening after services.

You are invited to all services of the church, both the pastor and the members being anxious to become acquainted with you. The pastor is especially glad to have students call on him for whatever service he may render. He may be found in his study at the church during the morning hours and at the parsonage at 112 W. Franklin street at other times.

Chapel Hill Baptist Church

O. T. BINKLEY, Pastor

The Chapel Hill Baptist Church welcomes the privilege of meeting new students and adding more warm friendships. The pastor, the members of the local congregation, and the Baptists of North Carolina are seeking to provide a happy church life here that will contribute to the students stay in Chapel Hill spiritually as well as intellectually and physically.

Baptist students are invited to transfer immediately into the local church activity in order to adopt themselves correctly, spiritually, at the very beginning. It is to provide opportunity for students to become what they should be spiritually that the program of this church is planned.

The Baptist Student Union includes all student religious organizations in the church and elects its officers from its student members. The officers are only too glad to be of any assistance to any student at any time.

Every student who cares to, will find a place in some of the activities of the church. Sunday School classes and B.Y.P.U.'s are adapted to their needs. Students are used as church ushers, members of the church choir and in the Sunday School orchestra. The Baptist Student Union, whose officers are elected by the students themselves, includes all the student religious organizations of the church. The pastor is glad to have students call upon him at any time for whatever service he may render. During the morning hours he may be found in his study at the church. At other times he will be glad to see students by appointment. The church telephone number is 4381.

The Chapel of the Cross

(Episcopal)

ALFRED S. LAWRENCE, Rector

8:00—Holy Communion
11:00—Service and Sermon
7:00—Student Forum
8:00—Evening Service

Freshmen and new students are cordially welcomed to the Chapel of the Cross, and are asked to make themselves known to Mr. Lawrence as soon as possible after arrival in Chapel Hill.

Our policy is to have as little organization as possible, so that the church can be a spiritual home rather than a mere college club. The Parish House is always open to students and in it they will find excellent opportunity for study and reading. A good reading room is located on the ground floor, provided with books and magazines, and upstairs a number of small rooms are available for study purposes.

Every Sunday afternoon a tea is served from 4:30 to 6:00 o'clock, which offer an opportunity for students to meet each other and many of the people of Chapel Hill.

The telephone number of the rectory at 308 E. Rosemary Street is 5891 and of the rector's office at the Parish House, 6111. Office hours are daily from 9:00 o'clock in the morning until noon.

REVEREND CLEVELAND R. DIERLAMM, Pastor

(The Chapel Hill Christian church merged with the Congregationalists in 1929. It is now called "The United Church of Chapel Hill.")

There is a cordial invitation extended to all students to attend the various church services offered here. The Sunday School meets every Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock. The men's Bible class is conducted by Dr. Raymond Adams, and the women's class is led by Miss Clesta Penny.

The hour of worship at 11:00 o'clock presents an opportunity to worship with us in a liberal environment through a continuous effort of a sincere interpretation of Christianity. Associate membership is offered in a homelike and helpful atmosphere and in no way conflicts with your church affiliation at home.

Mr. Walter Patterson, University organist, is leader of music.

Presbyterian Church

Due to the death of the regular pastor, Dr. W. D. Moss, who had served this church for so many years, there is no regular pastor for this church at present. The Reverend Ronald Tamblyn was called to supply for the school year 1932-33.

All Presbyterian students are cordially invitied to attend the Sunday school, which begins at 9:45 o'clock each Sunday morning. Special classes are held for students. Dr. W. J. McKee will be in charge of one of these groups. Mr. Lacy Ranson is superintendent of the division.

Graham Memorial Student Union

Built as a memorial to Edward Kidder Graham, eighth president of the University, Graham Memorial is a student union constructed by contributions from alumni and friends, supported by student fees, and devoted entirely to student use.

MAYNE ALBRIGHT
Director, Graham Memorial

The Union was formally opened in October 1931 and has rapidly become the social and activity center of the campus. All student activities, student government, student publications, social and honorary orders and other organizations have their headquarters in the Union building. The equipment of Graham Memorial includes committee rooms for all student meetings, a Grill, a barber shop, a banquet hall, a completely equipped game room, bowling alleys, and a lounge for "genteel loafing," reading, and the entertainment of friends.

The Board of Directors of Graham Memorial consists of four faculty representatives, two members of the Alumni Association, and nine students, the president of the student body being ex officio chairman. Each two years the board appoints a recent graduate as director to take charge of the business management and the entertainment program of the Union. Besides housing the programs of other organizations the Union sponsors lectures, concerts, teas, receptions, recitals, and informal dances.

Upon registration every student automatically becomes a member of the Student Union and is entitled to full use of all its facilities.

Extra Curricular Activities

Extra curricular activities are an important part of college life. More time is put to studies than anything else, for being elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary fraternity for scholarship, is one of the highest achievements which can be attained in college. However, no college career is really complete without participation in some campus activitity. Not only does such participation bring desired contacts and form lasting friendships, but it gives the student enjoyable and valuable experiences in college life; many find their real field of work by going out for some activity. Sports, publications, debating, dramatics, and various other things offer opportunities to men who are interested. There is chance for promotion and awards in the freshman year and in later undergraduate days chance for holding offices in the various organizations. The most important thing, more important than offices, is the trying-out, taking part, and getting experience through these activities. All new men should try-out for positions in the organization in which they are most interested. New men are wanted and welcomed by these organizations.

The Publications Union Board

The Publications Union Board has financial control of all the official publications at the University. The Board is composed of two faculty members, appointed by the President, and three student members, elected from the student body, one from the Senior class, one from the Junior class, and one from the campus at large. A blanket fee of six dollars a year, charged in the registration fees, entitles the student to the Daily Tar Heel, the Carolina Magazine, the Yackety Yack, and the Buccaneer. This fee is much lower than that charged at most colleges as the publications are nearly self-supporting.

The Carolina Theatre

Chapel Hill has one of the best moving picture theatres in the State, a Carolina Theatre in the North Carolina circuit. The theatre runs six pictures a week, five shows a day; and Chapel Hillians, in its commodious auditorium seating 1,000, see the season's latest and best releases as early as New York and its companion larger cities.

The Carolina Theatre was established in 1927. Under the managerial directorship of E. Carrington Smith it supplanted the peanut throwing hurly-burly that was the old Pickwick Theatre, that uproarious house of entertainment in which peaceful enjoyment was forbidden and to which the quieter citizens of the campus dared not venture. The "Pickwick" has become a tradition now. The Carolina Theatre, in its stead, has become one of the most respected institutions on the campus.

Manager Smith gives away many tickets. During freshman week each year he acts host to the entire freshman class, admitting all its members to his theatre. Every University student is given a ticket on his birthday. Students in each dormitory are entertained at the theatre once a year. Fraternities, campus groups, athletic teams, members of University Publications who do notable work—all sample the hospitality of Manager Smith.

E. Carrington Smith is continually doing something for the town of Chapel Hill or for the University. His most recent benefaction made possible the re-painting of the town's Methodist Church steeple. The organ in Memorial Hall with which every freshman soon becomes familiar was placed there through his efforts.

Athletic Association

Every student is a member of the Athletic Association, the moving body behind all University athletics. Membership is accorded each student by virtue of a small fee paid in tuition. Because of this membership, the student is able to attend all home games of Carolina athletic teams free. The Athletic Council, which is a distinctly separate unit, is composed of athletic representatives from the alumni, the faculty, and student body. Three faculty members appointed by the President of the University; three alumni elected from that group; three student members, the President of the Student Body, the President of the Athletic Association, and the Monogram Club delegate constitute the Council. The Graduate Manager of Athletics and the Director of Athletics are the other remaining officials.

COACH "BOB" FETZER
Director of Athletics

Officers of the Association—The officers of the Athletic Association are elected at the regular spring elections of the student body. These officers for the year 1933-34 are: Dave McCachren, President, and Norment Quarles, Vice-President.

Election of Captains—The captains of each athletic team are selected by the monogram men in that particular sport at the end of each regular season. This year there will be no regular captain in football, this leader being appointed by the head football coach prior to each contest.

DAVE MCCACHREN
President of Athletic Association

Election of Managers—All freshmen are eligible to try out for sub-assistant managerships in the sport that they desire. Each man trying out is assigned to work one day with the varsity squad and another day with the freshman. At the end of the playing season the Director of Athletics, the coach of the varsity sport, the varsity manager, and the Graduate Manager recommend to the Athletic Council six men to serve in the capacity of sub-assistant managers during the sophomore year. Two from this group will be recommended for the assistant managers during their junior year. In the senior year one of these two shall serve as varsity manager while the other will act as assistant or freshman manager.

Summary of Football Season for 1932: Carolina and Wake Forest opened their respective football seasons, deadlocking in 0-0 tie. Carolina outplayed tho Baptists in every department of the game, but could not cope with the fine Wake Forest defense. Carolina next dropped two games to Vanderbilt, 39-7 and Tennessee 20-7. Carolina came from behind to tie Georgia 6-6. Georgia Tech, playing in Kenan Stadium before a homecoming crowd, ran riot beating Carolina 43-14. A highly touted N. C. State team was outgeneraled and beaten by a cleverly coached Tar Heel eleven; Carolina 13 and State 0. Again hitting their stride, Carolina licked the Florida 'Gators, playing in Kenan Stadium 18-13. The Tar Heels continued their winning streak by beating Davidson 12-0, before a large Alumni Day crowd there. Duke broke the long string of Carolina victories and beat Carolina 7-0 in Kenan Stadium as mud provided for the heart-breaking touchdown. Duke's win, first since 1893. A determined Virginia line turned back the Tar Heels 14-7 before a crowd which packed Scott Stadium, Charlottesville, on Thanksgiving Day. This was the first Cavalier win since 1926. A trying season gave rise to a team which gave their best in face of insurmountable obstacles, and the Tar Heels, usually regarded as an aggressive eleven gained a fine defensive reputation.

Varsity monograms were awarded the following players and managers: G. T. Barclay, G. F. Brandt, J. H. Burnett, S. M. Chandler, C. W. Collins, S. M. Cozart, W. D. Croom, J. W. Daniel, J. O. Summary of the 1932-33 Basketball Season: Opening the season with seven straight wins over fine state and Southern Conference foes, the Tar Heels seemed headed for another Dixie cage title, but then lost to Duke 36-32.

Carolina opened the annual northern trip with disappointing losses to Maryland 42-29 and Navy 66-40. Coming back Carolina swept opposition aside, beating V. M. I. and Washington and Lee for the second time. Duke, playing on the Carolina court, repeated almost to a detail their previous win and beat the Tar Heels 31-24. An unimpressive Carolina five wound up the regular season with slow wins over Davidson 39-26 and N. C. State 35-28.

In their first Southern Conference tournament game, Carolina drew their old enemy V. P. I., who had been vanquished in impressive fashion early in the season 58-26, and again beat the Virginia Tech quint, 32-27. Their next game will go down in basketball history. University of South Carolina, easily the tournament favorite, had routed Maryland in their first game 65-28. Carolina was the only team which came near stopping the Gamecocks. The South Carolinians were forced to overcome an early Tar Heel lead and tied the game up as the gun went off. After two extra periods of thrilling play, South Carolina out-scored the Tar Heels to win 34-32. The winning aggregation picked three Carolina men on its All-Opponents' five, which included all season play. The Tar Heels honored: Wilmer Hines, forward; Ivan Glace, center; and Virgil Weathers, guard.

Monograms were awarded: S. C. Aitken, W. E. Beal, G. F. Brandt, S. M. Chandler, I. M. Glace, D. P. Henry, Captain Wilmer M. Hines, Morris H. Long, D. D. McCachren, V. S. Weathers, and A. S. Cate, Manager.

Last year's boxing season was marked with the all too frequently close and thrilling dual meets. The Tar Heel pugilists seemed to be the victims of circumstance, and at the close of the current season lost two tough meets, Penn State and Duke. Headlining the season was Norm Quarles' brilliant victory over Bobby Goldstein, Virginia's All-America All-time 135-pounder. In the annual conference ring tournament, Carolina took second with individual titles going to Quarles, 125; and Landis, unlimited. Probably the fight most truly typifying real Carolina spirit was Captain Marty Levinson's fight in the second round of the tourney. After cracking his wrist early in the match, Levinson continued to land telling punches, winning the decision.

Season was unusually hard, with the team getting started late in the season. Highlights of the season were the brilliant fights staged against V. M. I. and Washington and Lee, recognized the finest mat teams in Dixie. Climax of the season: Carolina's triumph over Duke 20-8. Davidson tied Carolina to end the season. Percy Idol, 1932-33 unlimited and captain, won Dixie unlimited title in the Southern Conference tourney.

A Message from the Cheerleader

Welcome, fellows! We have winning teams at Carolina because the players fight clean and hard. Coaches say "the folks in the stands have to fight too and let the teams know that we're behind them." We're counting on you men to join in and support the teams as they deserve. C'mon, fellows, make this year one for the "spirit of '33."

It's Carolina . . . . Win or Lose!

ERNEST W. HUNT, Chief Cheerleader.

During the second year of the tutelage of Bunn Hearn, former New York Giant star, Carolina came through in fine fashion winning both Conference and State titles. The Tar Heels won 10 Conference games while dropping their only Conference game to N. C. State 7-6. Later during the season, the Carolina nine snowed under the Techs 7-1. The highlights of the season were the two Duke victories, Carolina beating the Blue Devils for the first time since 1927. In both games, Joe Griffith, now with the Cleveland Indians, pitched the Tar Heels to victory. Johnny Peacock and Gene Zaiser, fine fielders, came through in fine style, giving Carolina needed hitting punch.

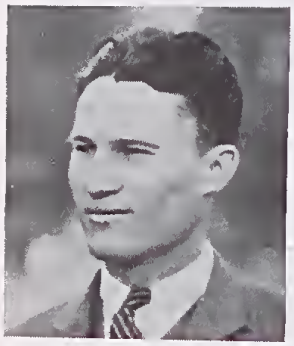
Intramural Athletics



"Bo" SHEPARD
Director, Intramural Athletics

Carolina's athletic slogan, "Athletics for All" is probably best carried out in the extensive program of the Intramural Athletic Association, which provides all forms of sport sufficient for the participation of every member of the student body. "Bo" Shepard, director, is ably assisted in the work by Herman Schnell who with a corps of officials, selected from the older members of the student body, conduct the yearly program of the department. New forms of sport are added each year, contributing toward the increasing popularity of this department. Separate fraternity and dormitory leagues compete in each sport and the winners of each division meet at the end of the current season to determine the campus champion in each sport.

HARK THE SOUND! (Tune: "Amici")

Hark the sound of Tar Heel voices
Ringing clear and true
Singing Carolina's praises,
Shouting "N. C. U.!"

Chorus

Hail to the brightest star of all!
Clear in its radiance shine!
Carolina, priceless gem,
Receive all praises thine.

Refrain

I'm a Tar Heel born
I'm a Tar Heel bred,
And when I die
I'm a Tar Heel dead.

'Neath the oaks thy sons, true-hearted,
Homage pay to thee;
Time-worn walls give back their echo—
Hail to U. N. C.!

Though the storms of life assail us,
Still our hearts beat true,
Naught can break the friendships formed
At dear old N. C. U.

Fraternities at Carolina

Fraternities are groups of college men joined together for companionship. For this reason, the fraternity is essentially a social organization, although there are professional fraternities which choose their members solely from a special school of the University, such as the School of Medicine, the School of Law, etc. At Carolina there are twenty-seven national social, one local social, thirteen professional fraternities, and two sororities. A national fraternity is one which has chapters at various schools; a local fraternity consists of a single chapter and is active only in the school or college at which it was organized. The majority of fraternities in Chapel Hill own or rent houses in which the members live and, in some cases, have their meals.

IRVIN BOYLE
President Interfraternity Council

BIDS. Membership in these fraternities is by invitation. Each fraternity extends a bid to those men who are most congenial with its particular group; sociability in general, athletic ability, literary and scholastic attainments, personality, and character are also qualities which the fraternities take into consideration. Recommendations by alumni and fraternal connections in the family are instrumental in the pledging of new members.

RUSHING. The rushing season or period at which fraternities entertain prospective pledges begins one day after the first day of classes. Until this time there is a period of silence, during which there shall be no rushing of any kind nor any communication between members of a fraternity and freshmen. This first period of silence includes Freshman Week in addition to the first day of classes. It is important that new men co-operate with fraternity members in respecting the period of silence, since fraternities are responsible for any violation of rushing rules.

From Monday, September 25, 1933 to midnight of October 7, 1933—thirteen days—each fraternity will entertain freshmen to whom it is considering extending bids. All rushing-entertainment is restricted to fraternity houses and shall be limited to the hours of two to nine o'clock p. m., except on the last night (October 7) of rushing, when the time shall be extended to midnight.

The second period of silence shall last from midnight of October 7 to 2:00 p.m. of October 9. The purpose of this period of silence is to allow the freshman to consider the merits of the fraternities by which he has been rushed and to determine his preference. No freshmen are permitted to be rushed or communicated with by any fraternity man or his associates during the two periods of silence. No freshman will be permitted under any circumstances to spend time at fraternities outside of the above mentioned hours (two to nine p.m.) during the entire rushing season. And no fraternity man will be allowed to room with a freshman during rushing season or even to visit him at his rooms outside the regular hours.

DATES. Appointments between fraternity men and freshmen may be made only one week in advance. No freshman during the first two days of rushing may make more than two dates with any one fraternity. No freshman shall be permitted to break any first date with a fraternity under penalty of being barred from fraternity membership.

PLEDGING. After the second period of silence, during which time the freshman is supposed to have determined his preference, each names his first, second, third, and more choices if he has them before the Dean of Students, who gives him a bid provided, of course, he shall have received one or more of them. Each freshman is given a bid from the fraternity of his first choice, if he has received one from that fraternity; if he has not he is given a bid from the fraternity of his second choice, and so on. No pledge made before this day on which bids are given out is legal. Both fraternities and freshmen can be punished for breaking this rule.

INITIATING. Only on the condition that he has passed five courses, making at least two "C's" (85), in two quarters, may a fraternity pledge be initiated. Any pledge not satisfying these scholastic requirements must wait until the following year to be initiated. Only on the condition that it attain a 3.5 (between a "C" and a "D") average in scholarship, may a fraternity be allowed to initiate new members. If, however, any fraternity does not attain such an average in the fall quarter, the whole fraternity will be on probation during the winter quarter to raise its average to the required 3.5. Provided this average is attained in the winter quarter the fraternity on probation may initiate in the spring quarter. If the winter quarter average of a fraternity on probation is less than 3.5, that fraternity may not initiate until it has raised its average to that point in some succeeding quarter.
